Bonanza Fuel’s busy summer with marine vessel fueling

Bonanza Fuel, LCC (Bonanza), a subsidiary of Sitnasuak Native Corporation operates the largest tank farm in Nome, with a capacity of 5.9 million gallons. This recently renovated and expanded facility is one of the very best bulk storage facilities in Western Alaska. Bonanza provides trucked delivery of heating oil, diesel, gasoline, and propane products in Nome and the surrounding road systems, and to marine vessels.

This past year, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers placed the Port of Nome as one of its top choices for a deep-draft Arctic port, which will serve the rapidly increasing marine traffic through the Bering Strait. According to the Army Corps, “The Tentatively Selected Plan calls for expanding the Port of Nome by extending the causeway 2,150 feet, adding another 450-dock, and dredging a channel, and turning basin to minus 28-feet mean lower low water.”

Nome is a logical choice to develop a deep-draft port for access to the North due to its current infrastructure. This includes the airport, hospital, and current port. Bonanza is well prepared for the development of the Port of Nome and the influx of marine vessels with its recent expansion of the tank farm.

The company has the capability to fuel marine vessels via truck delivery or directly pipe fuel into docked vessels.

Vessels fueled by Bonanza range from small fishing boats to large research ships. During the summer months Bonanza’s staff remains busy meeting the needs of their marine customers, 24 hours a day, and seven days a week when the sea ice is melted. Bonanza is your company for quick, safe, and quality marine vessel fueling at the Port of Nome. Bonanza has the resources to get you where you need to go.
Message from the President and CEO:

MICHAEL ORR AND RICHARD STRUTZ

Greetings!

It’s been several months since our transition to Sitnasuak Native Corporation’s new executive team, and it’s been an exciting three months. During that time, we’ve had the opportunity to evaluate where we are with respect to business operations, and to familiarize ourselves with Sitnasuak.

The most significant event from the past three months was the completion of our 42nd Annual Meeting of Shareholders, which was held in Nome on June 6th. We had at least 140 non-employee/non-Board Member shareholders in attendance, and the meeting was engaging and informative. We reported on another successful year, highlighted by:

• Net Income of $3,433,988
• Dividends of $1,490,764

Subsequent to the annual meeting, we’ve been able to make significant progress in building our familiarity with the company and we believe there is a strong foundation on which to continue the process of building. Sitnasuak is a well-diversified, stable corporation on a path for growth.

It is fortunate that we are on such stable footing, as we expect to face a changing operating environment in the coming year. We will be facing some headwinds in 2016, most notably with the slowing economies of Alaska and Puerto Rico, our two primary operating locations. Despite the challenges, we are confident that we are well positioned in the changing economic climate. Our positioning and stability will provide us with a good advantage to reinforce our business lines, and take advantage of new business opportunities that may arise.

We look forward to reporting on our continued success in the next Venture, and we hope you have the opportunity to enjoy a great fall season.

Sincerely,

Michael Orr             Richard Strutz
President                  CEO

Sitnasuak recently donated $10,000 to Alaska Legal Services Corporation (ALSC).

ALSC was established in 1967 as a private, nonprofit law firm. ALSC’s mission is to provide high quality civil legal services to low income and disadvantaged people and communities to protect their safety, their health and promote family stability.

This is the second year that Sitnasuak has donated to ALSC. The donation will be used to directly maintain the Nome office business operations. In the past 12 months ALSC has helped approximately 50 Sitnasuak shareholders/descendants with their legal needs.

WHAT DOES “Discretionary Voting” MEAN?
BY PATRICK M. ANDERSON, PARLIAMENTARIAN

A proxy is similar to an absentee ballot. Without a proxy, not all shareholders would get the opportunity to vote because they can’t travel to an annual meeting. Native Corporation shareholders in Alaska can then appoint someone called a proxy holder to vote for them if they cannot attend an annual meeting in person. Proxies must be written, signed, dated and must meet other legal requirements. Proxies also help a corporation reach a quorum for the meeting. Without a quorum, the meeting can’t be held and must be rescheduled, resulting in a higher cost for the corporation.

Sitnasuak allows a shareholder to give a proxy holder the authority to vote at their discretion. This means the person you appoint can vote how they want to, not how you instruct them to. If you don’t want to give your proxy holder any discretion, you don’t have to. You can tell your proxy holder how to vote, and they have to follow your directions. It’s important to understand that the right to vote a discretionary proxy belongs to you as a shareholder.

Many shareholders who want to help elect a new director use discretionary voting to keep options available at the meeting for their proxy. If there are five independent candidates running, but none of those five have enough votes to be elected, the proxy holders with discretion can come together and decide to support a candidate who could be elected with some added votes. If they do not have discretion, they cannot change their votes.

If you have questions about proxies, you can call Sitnasuak’s Shareholder Department at 1 (877) 443-2632 or send an email to rneagle@snc.org.
Charles Buzz Fagerstrom

ELECTED TO THE BOARD

“I am proud to be a Sitnasuak shareholder and I am excited to contribute as a Board member to help guide Sitnasuak towards its vision,” said Charles (Buzz) Fagerstrom.

Fagerstrom was recently elected to Sitnasuak Native Corporation’s Board of Directors by Sitnasuak shareholders at its 42nd Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

Fagerstrom is the son of Peggy and Chuck Fagerstrom. His grandparents are Helen and Charles Fagerstrom of Nome. Fagerstrom was born and raised in Nome and now resides in Anchorage with his wife, Christine Fagerstrom and their two children, Will and Laney.

Fagerstrom holds a Business Finance degree from Seattle Pacific University, a Masters of Public Health degree from the University of Hawaii, and an Executive MBA from the University of Colorado. His resume includes: Hospital Administrator at Norton Sound Hospital, Director of Extended and Residential Services at the Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium (ANTHC) and Director of Health Systems Networking at ANTHC. He is currently the Health Director for the Aleutian Pribilof Islands Association.

Fagerstrom believes that trust, respect and open communication are fundamental values that he will bring to Sitnasuak as a Director. “My vision for Sitnasuak is that the corporation will continue to generate increased profits while building upon our rich Inupiat culture. I would like all shareholders to view our corporation with a strong sense of pride and ownership.”

WIN CASH PRIZES AND SITNASUAK MERCHANDISE
Sitnasuak Native Corporation hosted its 42nd Annual Meeting of Shareholders this past June in Nome, AK. Sitnasuak’s Board of Directors and staff welcomed all shareholders who attended the meeting either in person or via webcast. “New Beginnings” served as the theme of Sitnasuak’s 2015 Annual Meeting – as Sitnasuak continues to evolve as an organization.

There was an improved number of shareholders in attendance over last year, evidencing increased shareholder participation. Approximately 140 shareholders were in attendance, as well as shareholders who were either staff or members of the Board. There were 1,084 shareholders who participated through proxy, which is about 39% of Sitnasuak’s shareholder base. The total number of shareholders who participated by voting was 49%, with 96,437.4 shares voted out of a total of 196,605.6.

Nome Mayor, Denise Michels was the guest speaker, and she drew attention to the city of Nome’s opportunity to play an integral role in Arctic Development. Nome is well situated to support the increased marine vessel traffic to the Arctic.

Entertainment was provided by the Nome – ST. Lawrence Island dancers while shareholders enjoyed lunch. Fresh Copper River salmon, reindeer stew, fry bread, salad, and a homemade blueberry delight for dessert were on the menu. It was truly a gourmet meal. Approximately $11,000 in door prizes were given out (this included cash prizes, two Alaska Airlines round trip tickets with a weekend stay in Anchorage, a 60 inch LCD TV, an iPad, heating fuel from Bonanza Fuel, LLC, two Fitbits, and a tool kit) with the aim of improving attendance and participation.

Chairman, Robert (Bobby) Evans highlighted the future of Sitnasuak. He identified Sitnasuak’s continued efforts to diversify and grow financially stronger than the previous year. Evans honored esteemed Elder, Lincoln (LT) Trigg, Sr., who retired from the Board with an ulu made by Sitnasuak shareholder, Wilson Bourdon. Evans also recognized the Board’s shared vision of looking forward to the next generation of shareholders, who will one day be the leaders of the corporation.

It was made evident from the informative presentations provided by management that Sitnasuak continues to change and pursue new opportunities for its growth.

shareholders. President Michael Orr emphasized that Sitnasuak has issued cumulative dividends to date that are approaching Sitnasuak’s original capital contribution from shareholders, which is a significant milestone in this corporation’s success.

The 2014 fiscal year report by Chief Financial Officer, Tom Delamater included the announcement of Sitnasuak’s Interim Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Richard Strutz, a well-respected Alaskan business man with 42 years of experience. Strutz has been with the Sitnasuak team for the last two and a half years, serving as the CEO of Sitnasuak Financial Services, LLC. In conclusion of his report, Sitnasuak has had a great start for the 2015 fiscal year and the outlook for the year is strong.

Sitnasuak Board of Directors and staff would like to thank all shareholders who attended the meeting or participated by proxy. Shareholder participation and input is important for the future of Sitnasuak.

Sitnasuak’s summer interns

SUMMER 2015

Sitnasuak Native Corporation welcomed three interns this past summer to work in both the Sitnasuak Nome and Anchorage offices. Interns; Christian Leckband, Elizabeth (Liz) Sherman-Luce, and Toby Wark had the opportunity to gain practical business skills to help support their professional endeavors.

CHRISTIAN LECKBAND

In 2014, Christian Leckband got his initial taste of internship through the First Alaskans Institute (FAI) when placed at the Anchorage office of Sitnasuak. The summer of 2015 was his second term as a Sitnasuak intern. His field of study at the University of Alaska Anchorage (UAA) is in marketing, complementary to his many projects at Sitnasuak. Christian worked on compiling business plans, preformed research for proposals, critiqued wording for project bids, with a large focus on Sitnasuak Health Solutions (SHS). SHS, a subsidiary of Sitnasuak, is involved with medical support services, such as billing, consulting, medical insurance, and information technology.

“Everything is a learning experience. The biggest thing for me is keeping an open mind, because things change as we move forward,” said Leckband. He is a shareholder and descendant, a senior at UAA, a Seawolves forward on the basketball team and someone who has been inspired working as an intern. “It has been really awesome seeing others going down the same path as me,” Leckband reminisced while reviewing his internships.

LIZ SHERMAN-LUCE

Liz Sherman-Luce also attends UAA. She is a junior pursuing a degree in early childhood education. “I have never doubted myself when it comes to my education. Times get hard, but when they do you have a lot of support. I know for one that without corporations such as Sitnasuak I wouldn’t be in my junior year at UAA. I have a lot of people to thank, and I love that I have a community that supports my educational goals,” said Sherman-Luce.

As a 2015 Sitnasuak summer intern at the Nome office, she had been working mostly in the Land Department. During the summer she remained busy by helping reorganize the Land Department in addition to field work. “We visited campsites for inspections, surveyed plots, and checked on compliance with Sitnasuak’s Land Use Policy,” recalled Sherman-Luce. “Working at Sitnasuak was a fun learning experience. There is a lot of information to gain and benefit yourself from an internship. If you have the opportunity to become an intern, take it. I have a lot of motivation for pursuing a strong future for myself and this was a great start.”

TOBY WARK

Toby Wark was the 2015 FAI summer intern at the Anchorage office. He comes from Southeast Alaska, is Tlingit, and is pursuing a degree in management at University of Alaska Southeast.

“The FAI Internship was a blessing. This summer, I was fortunate to work with an ANCSA Corporation to help out and learn about another culture,” said Wark.

This summer Wark worked on reviewing corporate policies, compliance, cost benefits analysis and working with his mentor, Richard Dyson, VP of Human Resources (HR) on numerous HR projects.

Sitnasuak will be looking for interns next summer and always encourages shareholders and descendants to apply for our internal internship and the FAI Internship. For more information on the FAI Internship, please visit the following link: http://firstalaskans.org/leadership-development/summer-internship-program/.
The 2015 dividend will usher in a new reality. Beginning this year, Sitnasuak dividends will be considered taxable income to shareholders going forward. Each shareholder will be mailed a 1099-DIV no later than January 31, 2016, which will include the annual taxable income. This information will be used in calculating personal tax returns.

Sitnasuak has never issued a taxable dividend in its history. All dividend payments through 2014 have been considered tax-free income for shareholders. So why are dividends received in 2015 suddenly taxable? The answer lies in 1973, when Sitnasuak was formed under the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA). Under the Act, Sitnasuak received $12,378,198 in cash which was recorded as Contributed Capital (CC). As required by Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), every dividend since inception has been recorded as a reduction to cash and to CC. Under IRS guidelines, all dividends charged against CC are considered tax-free income. Sitnasuak has paid $11,111,433 in cumulative dividends from inception through 2014.

If the total dividend payment remains the same in 2015, cumulative dividends will grow to $12,602,197, exceeding the CC received at inception. The portion over the CC (15%) received will be taxable. This means in 2015, for every 100 shares (assuming last year’s pay rate) 15% of the $616 dividend will be taxable ($18.50 assuming a 20% tax rate). Starting in 2016, 100% of the dividend will be taxable.

In summary, shareholders will see the first taxable dividend in 2015. This dividend will only be partially taxable. Every shareholder will receive a 1099-DIV, to be used in calculation of their personal 2015 annual tax return. Beginning in 2016, 100% of the dividend from Sitnasuak will be taxable.

Another change in 2015 is that shareholders will have the option to receive their dividend payment via direct deposit … no more checks in the mail! Again, this benefit is optional, if you choose not to apply for direct deposit you do not have to do anything to receive your check.

• The signup deadline for direct deposit is October 1st. All information must be received or postmarked no later than this date.
• The name of the account used for direct deposit must be in the name of the shareholder receiving the dividend distribution, unless there is a custodian on file. If the two names do not match, Sitnasuak will issue a paper check.

Personnel in the Shareholder Department will need some information to facilitate your request. There are two ways to sign up for direct deposit:

• For direct deposit to a checking account: On a blank check, write “VOID” in large letters across the face of the check – please don’t sign it. Enclose and mail it to Sitnasuak along with the form provided below.

• For direct deposit to a savings account: On a blank deposit slip, write “VOID” in large letters across the face of slip – please don’t sign it. Enclose and mail it to Sitnasuak along with the form provided below.

If you do wish to set up direct deposit, please cut out, complete and send in the form below along with a voided check or deposit slip to Sitnasuak at 4341 B Street, Suite 402, Anchorage, AK 99503. Please note, it is not necessary to submit this form if you do not want direct deposit. You will automatically receive your dividend in the form of a check. For security purposes, shareholder name and name on the direct deposit account must match unless there is a custodian on file.

In June, 2015, Sitnasuak Health Solutions, LLC (SHS) Improvement Advisor James Spillane began a new contract for quality improvement work with the Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe Indians in Minnesota.

June 2015 marks the one year anniversary since CEO, Carolyn Crowder assumed full time management of Sitnasuak Native Corporation’s latest subsidiary, SHS. SHS was created to take advantage of the dramatic reforms and technological advances in the health care industry, which provide new opportunities for Tribal Health organizations. SHS began its development by initially partnering with Tribes to provide Self-Governance training and health system quality improvement (Health IQ) services.

SHS is currently working with several Alaska and lower 48 Tribes, and more recently signed a contract to provide clinical quality improvement services with the Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe Indians in northern Minnesota. Other customers include Maniilaq Association, The Kenaitze Indian Tribe, Norton Sound Health Corporation, the Northwest Portland Area Indian Health Board, and the National Indian Health Board.

One of SHS’ Health IQ objectives is to assist their Tribal Clients with meeting national performance measure targets; Maniilaq just learned that they are one of the few Alaskan Tribes to achieve 100% of their FY2015 Government Performance Results Act (GPRA) measures for the Indian Health Service, thanks in part to Spillane, who has been working with Maniilaq leadership and care teams since October 2014.

SHS business offerings are growing, and Crowder is pleased to announce that as of July 2015, SHS has expanded its services to offer Revenue Cycle Management (RCM) services. As outlined in the Board-approved SHS Business Plan, the RCM business line will provide billing, coding, and revenue cycle analysis services for health clinics and hospitals with a market reach throughout all of Indian country. SHS has teamed up with DT Trak Consulting, Inc., a major medical RCM company based out of South Dakota to help jump start RCM services. SHS’ local Alaska office will be headed by newly hired RCM Regional Director, Heidi Summerlin. Summerlin has years of experience in Tribal business office coding and billing in Alaska.

Upon hire, Summerlin immediately began working on a proposal in response to a billing/coding request for proposal (RFP) in Alaska. SHS plans to grow their RCM staffing as they bring on more Tribal customers through winning competitive RFPs. Sitnasuak shareholders with billing and coding experience are urged to view the Sitnasuak web site for jobs which may become available in the future.

The SHS Subsidiary Board of Directors held its first meeting since the 2015 Annual Meeting of Shareholder of Sitnasuak, in late August. Ms. Helen Bell currently serves as the Chairperson of the SHS Board. Other SHS Board members include Trudy Sobocienski, Louis Green, Jr., Mark Allred, and Neal Foster. The SHS board meets quarterly during the scheduled Sitnasuak Board meetings and as needed for this growing company.
