SHAREHOLDER PROPOSAL INFORMATION

The following is provided as information and general guidance. If you have any questions about proposals, you may contact Sitnasuak Native Corporation (“SNC” or “Corporation”) at (907) 929-7000 or toll free at (877) 443-2632.

What is a proposal?

A Shareholder proposal is your recommendation or request that the Corporation and/or its Board of Directors take action, which you intend to present at a meeting of the Corporation’s Shareholders. Your proposal should state as clearly as possible the course of action that you believe the Corporation should follow.

Who may submit a proposal?

Any Sitnasuak Shareholder who is eligible to vote at the Shareholders’ meeting.

When are proposals due?

If you are submitting your proposal for the annual meeting of Shareholders, the Corporation Bylaws require that the proposal must be submitted at least 90 days before the meeting. A proposal should be submitted as early as feasible in order to assure adequate time for the Board of Directors to review the proposal and, if necessary, for the Shareholder to modify the proposal for final consideration before the filing deadline.

Either you or your representative must attend the meeting to present the proposal. Whether you attend the meeting yourself or send a representative, you should make sure that you or your representative follow the proper procedures for attending the meeting and/or presenting your proposal.

The Corporation may reject an otherwise valid proposal as follows.

- (1) Improper under state law: if, in the sole discretion of the Board of Directors, the proposal is not a proper subject for action by Shareholders under the laws of the State of Alaska;
- (2) Violation of law: if the proposal would, if implemented, cause the Corporation to violate any state, federal, or foreign law to which it is subject;
- (3) Violation of proxy rules: if the proposal or supporting statement is contrary to proxy rules, which prohibits materially false or misleading statements in proxy soliciting materials;
- (4) Personal grievance; special interest: if the proposal relates to the redress of a personal claim or grievance against the Corporation or any other person, or if it is designed to result in a benefit to you, or to further a personal interest, which is not shared by the other Shareholders at large;
- (5) Relevance: if the proposal relates to operations which account for less than 5 percent of the Corporation's total assets at the end of its most recent fiscal year, and for less than 5 percent of its net earnings and gross sales for its most recent fiscal year, and is not otherwise significantly related to the Corporation's business;
- (6) Absence of power/authority: if the Corporation would lack the power or authority to implement the proposal;
- (7) Management functions: if the proposal deals with a matter relating to the Corporation's ordinary business operations;
- (8) Relates to election: if the proposal relates to a nomination or an election for membership on the Corporation's board of directors or analogous governing body or a procedure for such nomination or election;
- (9) Conflicts with Corporation's proposal: if the proposal directly conflicts with one of the Corporation's own proposals to be submitted to Shareholders at the same meeting;
- (10) Substantially implemented: if the Corporation has already substantially implemented the proposal;
- (11) Duplication: if the proposal substantially duplicates another proposal previously submitted to the Corporation by another proponent that will be included in the Corporation's proxy materials for the same meeting;
 - (i) Resubmissions: if the proposal deals with substantially the same subject matter as another proposal or proposals that has or have been previously included in the

Corporation's proxy materials within the preceding 5 calendar years, a Corporation may exclude it from its proxy materials for any meeting held within 3 calendar years of the last time it was included if the proposal received:

- (ii) Less than 5% of the vote if proposed once within the preceding 5 calendar years;
- (iii) Less than 15% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders if proposed twice previously within the preceding 5 calendar years; or
- (iv) Less than 25% of the vote on its last submission to shareholders;

For example, a proposal would need to achieve support by at least 5% of the voting shareholders in its first submission in order to be eligible for resubmission in the following three years. Proposals submitted two and three times in the prior five years would need to achieve 15% and 25% support, respectively, in order to be eligible for resubmission in the following three years.

(12) Specific amount of dividends: if the proposal relates to specific amounts of cash or stock dividends; and/or

(13) Other reasons in the good faith judgment of the Board of Directors.

If the Corporation includes your shareholder proposal in its proxy materials, what information about you will it include along with the proposal itself?

The Corporation's proxy statement may include your name and address, as well as the number of the Corporation's voting shares that you hold, and any personal interest, aside from simply holding shares, that you might have in adoption of the proposal.

The Corporation may include in its proxy statement reasons why it believes shareholders should not vote in favor of your proposal.

The Corporation may elect to include in its proxy statement reasons why it believes Shareholders should vote against your proposal. The Corporation is allowed to make arguments reflecting its own point of view, just as you may express your own point of view in your proposal's supporting statement.
